AN APPRECIATION

The leaves upon the campus trees
Are weaving patterns on the sky,
As stirred by every spring-time breeze
They charm the dreamy student eye.
As by some old magician's art.
This printed page brings back to me
Those pictures painted on my heart,
Kaleidoscopic—changing fast—
A shadow, then a light, appears—
A smile o'er comedies long past;
For some the tragedy of tears.

Whate'er has come in after life,
Whate'er the gift that fortune gave—
Of failure, or victorious strife,
Of happy home, or early grave—
Whate'er has been, or what may be,
Still memory will hold its sway;
For linked by golden bands are we—
Those boys and girls of yesterday.

—Willa MacLane Pugh, '00.

AULD LANG SYNE

Days At the Old "O. U."

Poem read at the Aldine Club, New York, before alumni and friends of the Ohio University, Saturday night, January 3, 1920:

Daughter of Earth and Heaven, Mnemosyne,
 Fair mother of the tuneful Muses Nine,
 Who still to men art known as Memory,
 Bring us a cool and sparkling draught divine
 From bubbling fount of thy Pierian Spring
 That we of Athens' classic shades may sing.

Fill high each glass but not with rosy wine,
 For Bacchus is an outcast, banished now;
 No longer leaves of ivy and of vine,
 And clustered grapes now crown his ample brow;
 By fount or grove no longer is he seen
 And so, instead of wine, bring Hippocrene.

Lo! as we quaff the old "O. U." appears
 Seated upon a gently rising hill;
 Crowned with the memories of centuried years,
 But fair and ever growing, youthful still!
 Once more I see you as in Eighty-Four,
 When first I crossed the threshold of your door.

Thy campus and its immemorial elms
 That morn were witchery of light and shade;
 First seat of learning in Northwestern realms,
 How far from you tonight we all have strayed,
 Who now are gathered here in Aldine Hall
 The memories bright of past years to recall.

Would we now know you were we now to see
 The old "O. U." midst changes years have wrought?
 What matters it? For still Mnemosyne
 Limns but the pictures fair that once she caught;
 The hills around thee rise as then they rose,
 And round their base the bright Hockhocking flows.

Time ever onward sweeps on viewless way
 And life's Processionals like seasons change,
 And to those classic halls, grown old and gray,
 Come other groups that o'er thy campus range;
 But still among its learned faculty
 A few familiar names we there can see.

The chairs of Latin, Greek, Astronomy,
 Are filled now as they were in days of yore,
 And Evans, Hoover, Dunkle's names we see
 Still masters each in his own special lore,

And other names familiar to us seem
Who then were students following Learning's gleam.

But one is absent, learned, lithe, and tall,
Whose name as "Prexy" we do not descry,
Where now are Super, Mees, Stine, Wheeler, all Whom then as "profs," we knew in days gone by?
And where the classes Eighty-Four to Eight?
"Happy New Year" to them we dedicate!

And one there was by learning, genius dowered,
Impulsive, eloquent, and passionate,
Whose strong heart was by sorrow overpowered,
Whom life's woes swift swept on to darkened fate!
O friend whom here we name not, would that you
Had stayed that we tonight might greet you true.

And now Mnemosyne, we fain would trace
The hopes and dreams, and many visions fair
We knew when we at the "O. U." had place;
But lo! They vanish all into thin air!
Are they, unseen, still present here tonight in city vast near Broadway's lane of light?

Yes, some of them are here; not all are gone;
Some of them linger like the low refrain
Of sweet old college songs that echo on
And will with us forever still remain!
May they upon our lengthening pathways shine
As once at the "O. U." in 'Auld Lang Syne!'

—H. T. Sudduth.

Professor Sudduth was the head of the Department of English in the Ohio University from 1884 to 1888.

DE ALUMNIS

'56—Rev. Perley B. Davis, College Hill, Cincinnati, is "among those remaining." He writes his continued interest about things at O. U. We hope we may have some articles from his pen. At the beginning we can assure him of an appreciative audience.

'75—Calvin S. Welch still holds the fort at Huntington, W. Va., from where he sends his hearty good wishes for the success and continued prosperity of dear old Ohio University.

'97—Mrs. Della Connett Hixson writes from her home at Cambridge that her husband, Dr. Hixson, has been on the sick list since the beginning of February.

'98—J. F. Henderson continues in the practice of law at Ashland.

'01—J. Claire Evans writes from Denver, Colorado, to the effect that since he was president of his class, it is time to think about the class reunion in 1921.

'03—Lulu Henderson is now Mrs. John Given and she lives in Steubenville.

'07—Francis M. Porter is at the head of the Porter Arts Company, Urbana; Ill. The letter head indicates that he produces "anything made with pen or brush."

'10—Madge Lindsay continues as teacher in the Canton High School.

'11—Dr. and Mrs. (Julia Baker, '11) Leo C. Bean of Gallipolis report their intention of attending the Commencement exercises.

'11—Betty Jane, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. (Mabel Stewart, '11) Tom Cotton, died April 13, 1920.

Mrs. Lena Koons Swaim is visiting her parents in Athens. She will leave soon for Los Angeles where she will join her husband.

'12—C. R. Ridenour, one of the famous "Ridenour boys," has been in the Cadiz Schools since his graduation. He now enjoys the position of superintendent. He expects to attend the commencement where he will witness the graduation of the two remaining members of the family. The Ridenours will prove a close second to the Kirkendalls when it comes to numbers.

'12—Anna L. Jones "comes across" from Ironton.

'12—Callie King Walls, one of our enthusiastic Alumnae, writes an interesting letter from Cincinnati, reassuring the alumni office of her desire to help build up a wholesome, genuine Ohio University spirit.

'13—Lester R. Fry is one of the Ohio University colony in Akron, where he is engaged in the real estate business.

'13—At a recent meeting of the Science and Mathematics Association of Southwestern Michigan, held at Kalamazoo, our own "Jap" Place presented a discussion on "Present Tendencies in Elementary Biology." Mr. Place is also secretary of the association.

'13—Rev. and Mrs. (Bertha Witters, '05) M. M. Brown are located at Lorain, where Mr. Brown holds the pastorate of one of the Methodist churches of that city.

'13—Marion Wolcott, who is a member of the faculty of Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C., writes as follows: "With a great deal of pleasure, I read each number of the Alumni Bulletin. Then I take it over to Mrs. W. D. Magginnis (Gertrude O'Connor, '12), and we have a little alumni meeting all our own."

'13—Prof. O. L. Dustheimer and Mrs. Dustheimer (Edna B. Cline, '13) are both teaching—the former in Baldwin-Wallace College and the latter in the Berea Schools.

'13—Doris Ludlow (Mrs. M. K. Wild) writes the Bulletin from Fresno, Calif. During the winter she had as guests Prof. and Mrs. Treudley.

'14—Norman Fulton finds himself comfortably connected with the Flexible File Co. of Fremont.

'14—Nelle Sause is another member of the Ohio University colony located at Youngstown.

'14—Augusta B. McKelvey belongs to the teaching corps in the Akron schools, from where she sends material help to the association.

'14—Mary I. Hanna has just completed her second year as instructor in drawing in the Hazelton (Pa.) city High School.

'14—Arloa J. Spracklen is located at Youngstown.

'16—Clara E. Schieber is completing her course in Clark University, where she will receive her doctorate at the coming commencement. Miss Schieber has majored in history, with especial emphasis on international relations. She is highly spoken of in her work by the Clark authorities.

'16—Bessie Lee Van Voorhis is principal of the First Ward School at Mt. Vernon.

'16—Bess M. Cole belongs to the teaching force at East Liverpool.

'16—Edith M. Stoker taught in the Kenmore Schools the past year.

'17—Willis French is located at Greenville.

'17—Chloe E. Henry is one of the teachers in the Junction City Schools.

'17—Waldo H. Weic, located at Huntington, W. Va., sends "the sinews of war" for the association with his best wishes and interest for what we are doing at Ohio University.

'17—Edna Rickey has secured a scholarship in the Ohio State University for next year.

'17—Clinton P. Biddle, now a graduate student at Harvard, has accepted the position of assistant to the head of the Bureau of Business Research in that institution.

'17—Gertrude Maier is located at Zanesville.

'17—Lucile Brubaker has been engaged in teaching at Bellaire.

'18—Marie Deffenbaugh is one of the teachers in the Lancaster Schools.

'18—Cameron Gullette has been elected to teach French in the Brookings (South Dakota) High School.

'18—Helen C. Batrick has been one of the teachers in the Findlay Schools.

'18—Garland A. Bricker is the President of the North Dakota State School of Science at Wahpeton, that state. It is a Junior College and bids fair to become one of the strong factors in the educational development of the northwest.

'18—Florence A. Cloud "comes across" from Vinton.

'18—Linnie Heid, Hanging Rock, says: "The Bulletin is splendid." That is one reason why she has "come across."

'18—H. C. Plummer is where most folks go these days—Akron. He is there helping the Goodrich Rubber Company do things.

'19—Flora Belle Robinson has been the head of the Home Economics Department of the Clay District High School, Shinnston, W. Va.

'19—Catherine Lawless, located at Ironton, sends membership fee, good wishes and congratulations to Alumni Association and the Bulletin.

'19—Jessie Spellman has taught in the Jeffersonville schools during the past year.

'19—Effie McKee is teaching her second year in the Ironton High School, where she is at the head of the Commercial Department.

'19—Ruth Lafferty is teaching at Uhrichville.

'19—Mr. and Mrs. (Belle Shipps) O. A. Burton send good wishes for the bulletin from Martinsville.

'19—Anna Gates sends best wishes from Marietta, where she is engaged in teaching.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The first year of the re-organized Alumni Association is nearing an end. The officers have many reasons for feeling gratified at the results attained. The alumni have been generous in their response, indicating that there has been all along a genuine enthusiasm, although at times seemingly latent.

One more Bulletin, the June number, will be published this year. In that issue there will be rendered a full account of what has been done since last September.

At this time the executive committee wishes to urge upon all who have been receiving the Bulletin to become active members in the Alumni Association. A circular letter to that effect was sent out a month ago. Its results have been most satisfactory. Our mails have been full of checks ever since. Among them were several for $10.

This is a drive for a one hundred per cent membership. If you have not enrolled, will you not do so before June 15th? DO IT NOW. Make your check payable to Ohio University Alumni Association.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK

Will all Alumni who contemplate visiting the Campus during the Commencement Season, kindly write the Secretary, notifying him of your intention to come and the time of your arrival? Do it now.

OUR MAIL BOX

Dr. William D. Porter, '83,
Melrose Building, Cincinnati

"You ask why we fellows in Cincinnati don't give you a chance to eat with us at an Alumni Dinner. We should all enjoy having you here and I suppose there is no real explanation of our failure to do so, except our inertia.

"I attended such a dinner some years ago—I believe it was the first one given here. I was surprised to find that I was the only person there that I knew. My impression was that about 90 per cent of the gathering were from out of town.

"I have the unfortunate distinction of belonging to one of the smallest classes that have been graduated from Ohio University. With only four members, the chance for class spirit is necessarily nil. Of course, I knew a good many in the classes above and below mine and formed many fine friendships.

"I think if I attend Alumni Dinners in the future, it will be in New York. Cal Humphrey and Pearl McVay certainly covered themselves with glory. I was much interested in your account for, as it happens, I know about a dozen of the company pretty well and several intimately.

"I am interested in your program for Founder's Day and would be glad to run up, if for no other reason than to see and hear dear old Dr. W. H. Scott. He was a great teacher and has about the most logical mind I have ever encountered. If you think of it, please give him my kindest regards."

Mr. and Mrs. (Edith Eaton '09) J. L. Finnicum, 647 Grace St., Chicago, Ill.

"It may be 'late,' but where a mark of loyalty to dear old Ohio is involved, 'never' is impossible. We enclose herewith a check as a slight payment (less war tax) for the pleasure The Bulletin alone brings us.

"While only one of us is an alumnus, the other is a 'near' one, but no less a well wisher and as loyal as they make them.

"We are looking for great things at, and as a result of, the first Chicago 'get together.'

"More power to the association or any other organization which keeps together the old memories, and reminds us that back of any success with which we may meet, stands always the training, experience and friendships of our Alma Mater, dear old Ohio University."

Esther Greisheimer, '14

University of Minnesota, Minneapolis,
Minnesota

"Enclosed please find check for the Alumni Association. The two numbers of the Bulletin that I have recently received have pleased me greatly. I shall never forget our dear Alma Mater and the teachers and friends who meant so much to me. I wish to extend my best wishes to President Ellis, to all the faculty, and all my Athens friends."

Cora Love Howe, '09,
Napoleon, Ohio

"Edna Lucile Thompson is now Mrs. Fred Myers of Solon, Ohio. She graduated in the Normal class of 1909.

"I surely appreciate the Bulletins as they seem almost like many letters from old friends from whom I have separated many years."

H. T. Sudduth,

201 Adelphi St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I was glad to hear from you and to receive the Alumni Bulletins you so kindly sent and glad also for your kindness in placing my name on the mailing list for the Bulletins as they appear from time to time. Please accept my thanks for this courtesy, and excuse my delay in replying, as I have been very busy and have deferred all my correspondence to a 'more convenient season.'

OHIO UNIVERSITY BULLETIN

"I have not yet found time to read the Bulletins, merely glancing them over and hoping soon to read them carefully. Though I was at Athens only four years and have been away from it nearly thirty-two years, I still have a very kindly feeling toward the Ohio University and towards its faculty and especially toward yourself the only member of the newer faculty that I have met, though I have seen and I think I have met your president many years ago at a Teachers' Institute in Ohio. I am rejoiced to learn of the progress of the university, and it is evident the present faculty must be improving the university vastly as compared with its progress a quarter of a century and more ago.

"Please remember me to Prof. Evans, who is, I find, the only leaf of the old-time faculty tree that still remains. Also I would be glad to have you remember me to Dr. Super and any other members of the faculty you may happen to meet with whom I was once associated and as a former professor would be glad to have you convey also to your present president my congratulations on the progress the university has made and is making."

H. C. Koch, '19,
Mt. Vernon, Ohio

"Enclosed find my contribution to the alumni work. This is rather tardy acknowledgement of my appreciation for your efforts to start the alumni machinery again, inasmuch as I have been laboring under the impression that my fee was in.

"To express my pleasure over the fact that Ohio is to have an effective alumni organization is quite impossible. Personally I think that its importance cannot be over-emphasized, for one's activities in behalf of his alma mater are retro-active; he secures quite as much benefit from contributing to the furtherance of a good work as if he were the direct recipient of "You will recall some of our past talks along the line of this work. I am quite glad that you have been prevailed upon to take up the work once again, for we feel that we will be adequately taken care of. It was a sad thought indeed to contemplate at the time of graduation that as soon as the doors had closed behind us we would soon be forgotten by the old institution. Fortunately this is not to be."

Supt. F. C. Kirkendall, '93,
Zanesville, Ohio.

"Ohio University gave to me as a poverty stricken lad a chance at a college education, cheaper, considering the quality, than any other place in Ohio at that time offered. I ought not to forget that. At Ohio University I formed a few of the closest friendships of my life. I don't wish to forget that. It was at Ohio University that I met Alice Pilcher. I shall never forget that. I suppose I ought to come across for the amount of one dollar for each of the above enumerated facts. I'll admit without debate that the college education has been worth the $3 here attached. The friendship money could not buy; and Alice Pilcher—well, Heaven is where she is."

E. B. Skinner, '88,
University of Wisconsin, Madison,
Wisconsin.

"I was very sorry that I could not attend the Chicago dinner, but I had already spent a week away from my work attending the Cleveland meeting of the N. E. A. and knew that the American Mathematical Society meeting at Chicago was ahead of me.

"Please give my best regards to Doctor Super and Professor Evans, the only representatives of the Ohio University of my day who still live in Athens. To both of them I owe much."

C. K. Cooperrider, '15,

Forest Service, Albuquerque, N. M.

"I confess negligence in not having kept in closer touch with organizations of my Alma Mater. My nomadic nature of living has largely been responsible. However, I have done much reminiscing and am as much interested in old Ohio University as of old. A number of alumni notes have come into my hands indirectly and have been enjoyed.

"Just at present I have taken shelter in Springerville to escape a blinding sand storm.

"There are quite a number of Ohio

University people in Albuquerque, now my home. Among these are Roland Guthridge "Beta Smith," Mrs. Cooper-ricer, formerly Miss Effie Hedges, and myself.

"I have been connected with the United States Forestry Service for the past six years. My work has taken me into all parts of New Mexico and Arizona, particularly the mountainous, forested sections which constitutes some of the best scenery and points of interest in the Rockies.

"One of the principal points of interest and never ceasing attraction is the atmosphere created by contrast in elevation. The mountains are all timbered with the most wonderful stands of primeval pines, spruce and fir and contain all climates varying from temperate at five to six thousand to arctic at 14,000. The valleys and plains between the mountains are semi-arid to desert with all their attractions. Mountain hamlets of Spanish-speaking people, numbering less than 500 people are frequently met with; which same are older than Boston.

"Find enclosed a check."

Lucile Evans Carpenter, Ex-'02,
Sawpit, Colorado

"Some days ago my mother sent me a copy of the Ohio University Bulletin and I was delighted to see that the enthusiasm begun last June, which I witnessed when in Athens, has borne such good fruit and that the Ohio University Alumni Association has been reorganized and that you are the secretary. We enclose a check.

"Old Ohio University is very dear to us for many reasons and we expect our children to get their first years of college life in Athens. Our son Franklin is there now as you may know, and Margaret will be when she has finished her high school course at the Wolcott School in Denver."

Mrs. Julia Kirkendall Campbell, '83
Williams, Indiana

"It is a great pleasure to again have the privilege of reading the Ohio University Alumni Bulletin. I inclose my mite to help keep up the good work. It does not nearly pay for the enjoyment I received from reading the account of 'The New York Dinner' alone.

"Mr. Campbell and I are rejoiced to know so many of those we knew and loved in the '80's are still 'carrying on.'

"Here's hoping the celebration of Founder's Day will be a great success and that there will be many happy meetings that day of alumni. It would be worth the journey to me to see and hear again dear President W. H. Scott, of tender memories."

Bertha A. Lively, '17,
5318 St. Charles Ave., New Orleans,
Louisiana

"Enclosed you will find a money order for alumni dues. I have enjoyed very much reading the Bulletin. Each number seems like a letter from home.

"My winter in New Orleans is furnishing me a great opportunity to become acquainted with a most beautiful and interesting city. There are a great many places and events of historic, artistic, industrial and current renown. The French quarter, the Italian and the Spanish sections, the old Spanish fort overlooking Lake Pontchartrain; the miles and miles of wharves with their great warehouses and elevators, and the many ocean and river steamers; the beautiful modern residential district along St. Charles Avenue, the French Opera, and Mardi Gras, are a few of the many attractions of America's winter capital.

"My work is in the Department of Psychology and Education in New Orleans University, the second largest school of the Freedmen's Aid Bureau of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the school of which the late Bishop Cambor was an alumnus. The present student body possesses a high standard of ability and scholarship. The school is located in the wealthy St. Charles district and commands the respect and confidence of all the community.

"There is a firmly established and rapidly growing sentiment for better educational opportunities for the colored race in Louisiana, and the state legislature and municipalities are making increased appropriations for these schools.

"I shall look forward to the regular arrival of the Ohio University Bulletin with its interesting articles and items which tell of the past and present Ohio University alumni work."

"Am enclosing my subscription,

OHIO UNIVERSITY BULLETIN

which I feel is long overdue. Your little book comes to me regularly and to say that I appreciate it is to put it mildly. All that you say is of interest, whether I know the particular individual or not. My little mother, who spent the most of her life in Athens, reads the book with as much pleasure as I do, and many times it is she who tells me who this or that one is. You are doing a splendid work, and one that will be of increasing interest.

"My 'sheepskin' hangs over my desk in the office of the Central Press and is a constant reminder of the work of the dear old professors at old Ohio University, especially that grand man, Dr. Super, and Prof. Willis Boughton.

"My kind regards to all the old friends, and a special greeting to the class of 1897."

Clive Robens Ridge, '16,
Chagrin Falls, Ohio

"Please find enclosed my membership fee in the Alumni Association.

"You cannot realize how much each alumnus appreciates the Bulletin and the work you are doing. There is indeed nothing that could tie us more to our Alma Mater than an energetic and alive alumni organization.

"Best wishes to all friends at Ohio."

Don C. Coultrap, '08,
Franklin, Pa.

"Your letter in regard to the Founders' Day exercises just received and am sorry that I will not be able to attend the functions as I know they will be of great interest to all the Ohio University alumni.

"I am enclosing my check for my University Bulletin which I have been enjoying for the past several months.

"I noticed in the paper a week or two ago where a certain Frank Johnson was killed in Turkey, and trust that this was not the same Frank Johnson that was in my class.

"Trusting that the Bulletin will be a permanent feature, and that the Ohio University will continue to prosper, I am,
Very truly yours."

Mrs. Ora Lively Harshbarger, '10,
Jackson, Ohio.

"Enclosed find a check to apply on Bulletin. Am surely delighted to hear from old Ohio University again. Some of her sons and daughters have surely showered honors upon her. As for myself, I am deeply interested in the science—especially domestic."

Elizabeth Kurtz, '01,
106 Analomink St., East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania

Enclosed find my bit toward the worthy cause; and with it I send very best wishes to dear old Ohio University, to the association and Bulletin, and to yourself."

Mrs. Crissie Peters Williamson, '03,
211 Lehigh St., Swissvale, Pa.

"I just finished reading the Bulletin and will send a check for membership for Mr. Williamson and myself before I forget to do so again.

"We both enjoy reading each copy and do not want to miss one.

"I was indeed shocked to learn of the death of my friend and classmate, Lena Glazier Roush.

"We hope this will be a prosperous year for dear old Ohio University, and that the Bulletin will keep on coming."

Adam J. Hawk, '79,
New Lexington, Ohio

"The Alumni Bulletin is the most welcome periodical on my table. Every number makes

A thousand recollections
Into busy being start."

Correspondence with all our long-time friends is impossible, much as we should enjoy it. The Bulletin, in a sense, supplies the wish to know where and how our friends, made at the old Ohio University fare. Long may this means of information live, and to help perpetuate its usefulness, here's my check."

Ethel Boyles, '13,
North Lewisburg, Ohio

"The February number of the Alumni Bulletin reached me a few days ago and I want to send you my membership fee and also to tell you how glad I have been to receive these Bulletins. I assure you every one is read with interest.

"Mother and I were especially interested in Mrs. Evans' paper, 'Sixty Years Within the Sound of the Ohio University Bell.' Mother as a young girl lived two miles east of Athens at the time of which Mrs. Evans writes and remembers many of the people and conditions which she mentions. She tells me that my father had one of those stone pitchers which the students used to carry water. I remember hearing him tell about living in the college buildings; also about the literary societies meeting in the attic of Central building. He was a Philo. I am sending my copies of the Bulletin containing this article to a friend of my mother's who lived in one of the three houses south of the college.

"I enjoy the news notes and letters and all the good things that make up each number of the Bulletin."

W. Rumer Yaw, '19,
University Club, Akron, Ohio

"As a bit of an aid in carrying on the good work you have so well begun, I am enclosing a check.

"I'm keenly looking forward to the time when you and I and the thousands of others who have attended school at Ohio are not the only ones who know that on the banks of the Hocking we have 'One of the Finest.' An active, vigorous alumni organization is absolutely essential to progress. I'm glad to be 'in.'"

Mary Schleicher, '17,
Sciotoville, Ohio.

"During the past few months I have been looking forward with pleasure to the appearance of the Alumni Bulletins. They bring to those of us, who are of necessity away from college halls, a breath of interest which for a short time whisks us back among associates of former days. The Bulletins will surely be of great help in cementing the loyalty of our alumni.

"I was glad to learn that the growth of tradition at Ohio University has been promoted by a Founder's Day. As a student some years ago, I felt the need of organized traditions. The history of Ohio University is full of tradition which could readily be used as a training school for college loyalty."

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Stewart, '14,
Sciotoville, Ohio

"There has been no peace at our house since the Alumni Bulletin appeared the first time. Mrs. Stewart (Elizabeth Robinson) has kept at me every week to send in our dues and now if you can imagine how it is when a fellow's conscience is already tender on that subject and he naturally 'forgets,' you can see how we have lived for the last months. The Bulletin is great. Just what we need. Keep it coming and accept our 'bit.'"

F. Ernest Bolton, '18,
820 W. 9th St., Wilmington, Dela

"I have been intending, these many weeks, to send in my contribution to the fund which is keeping alive the alumni spirit among Ohio graduates, and, at last, I have succeeded in getting my good intention into concrete form. It is late, but my experience with various campus activities has shown that the need for funds is inversely proportional to the length of term remaining. Hence, I trust that the enclosed check will not be unwelcome or unused.

"I have been receiving and reading with great pleasure the Alumni Bulletins. They indicate the revival, of a very necessary and desirable spirit, which has been dormant at Ohio in the past few years. There has really been no nucleus about which the feeling of the alumni could center itself. Now they have found in you an able leader, and the response as indicated in the Bulletins show that Ohio's sons and daughters have not lost interest in their Alma Mater. May the good work go on!

"I note in a recent issue of 'Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering,' that F. C. Langenburg of Watertown Arsenal has been appointed head of the committee on tests of the American Society for Testing Materials' Commission, to investigate the effects of high silicon and phosphorus content in steels. Mr. Langenburg graduated from Ohio several years ago ('12), and was, I believe, one of the most brilliant men our chemical department has sent out. This might make an item of interest for the Bulletin.

"Please remember me to my many friends on the campus, especially 'Daddy' Evans and Dr. Wilson."

Evelyn L. Adams, '09,
1026 Grattan St., Los Angeles, Calif.

"If it takes all the good alumni of Ohio University as long to get across as it has this one, no wonder the association cannot yet be graded one hundred per cent. Before I had finished reading Bulletin No. 1, something less than an hour after its arrival, my resolution to send something was made but, alas, though a perfectly good resolution, I am amazed to discover that to date it is nothing more.

"The Bulletins fill a long felt need. Once I heard something of 1909 class letter as coming my way, but I never laid eyes on any such in these ten years.

"The best suggestion for making the Bulletin ideal, it seems to me, is that of Mr. McDaniels, i. e., that you give us brief accounts of the faculty members who are as dear to us in loved associations with Ohio University as our own classmates.

"How would it do to get the class professors to give an account of themselves in shape of a letter to the class. I do not know how far back the custom of having a class professor goes, but the annuals will tell that. I'll guarantee the Class of 1909 will be delighted to hear from our class professor, Dr. Hoover.

"Then, while I'm telling what I'd like to know, let me add that a list of those who had an active part in the Great War would be of great interest. Often as I worked with our boys and girls in Shanghai have I longed to turn them loose on the campus just as the sun was setting, with the lovely crisp autumn leaves drifting in delicious heaps across the paths. Out there we have no real autumn. It is summer, then winter's rain and dull brown leaves here and there, never a variegated one to remind one of home. Our children do miss much that young America takes as a matter of course. So as the days of separation lengthen, our beautiful little college among the green hills grows more precious to us, her alumni, who travel thus afar.

"Wishing the Bulletin and Ohio University all success."

Thomas M. Smith, '04,

Atlantic, Iowa

"Many thanks for the February number of the Alumni Bulletin which came to hand this morning and which I have read with pleasure though not unmixed with sorrow.

"It was a decided shock to the writer to learn of the passing of Lena Glazier Roush, who was so well liked, both on the campus and by the townspeople of Athens. It fell to the lot of the writer to 'spike' her husband, Guy, for the Delts, and I would extend my heartfelt sympathy to Guy in his sad hour of bereavement.

"Then there was Harry Bahrman, handsome and likable, who commanded my attention and admiration when I first began to haunt the campus. Though poles apart as 'prep' and senior, I admired him because he deigned to smile reassuringly and would lend a hand 'When a feller needs a friend.'

"It is beyond my comprehension to note that Lenore Belle Bishop is listed as of unknown address. I last saw her in 1916. I was on a business trip through Illinois, stopping at Streator and Kankakee, and I believe it was at the latter place that Belle came hurriedly into the depot preparatory to boarding a train to Chicago in company with a number of high school teachers on their way to attend a Grand Opera. Her cheeks were glowing with nature's own 'glory red' and her eyes flashed the white honesty of her splendid personality so familiar to all who knew her back in the days of the Centennial Class. Whenever you find her and wherever, it is safe to assume she will be giving fully as much as she is receiving even until she takes the train for her first Grand Opera on the Other Side.

"And Bennett, G. A., is lost! Gilbert met me at the train on that hot September day and steered me to his 'club.' And so the first I knew of him he was running a boarding club, while the last I heard of him he was running a correspondence school of his own in Columbus, Ohio. Rest assured that G. A. will be found 'running' something and collecting as he goes. This is not intended as caustic, for be it said that he only charged $2.00 per week per prep for his boarding house prunes.

"I enclose two 30-cent dollars which you may apply to the upkeep fund of the Alumni Association. May their value increase."

Lillian Michael Drake, '84

Goshen, Indiana

"It has been a number of years since I had the pleasure of being in Athens at commencement time, and I am sure my alumni dues are in arrears. I am enclosing check for ten dollars with my best wishes for the welfare of the association.

"I enjoy the Bulletin immensely. The Alumni Association is certainly under obligations to you for your untiring interest in its affairs."

John E. Snow, '92,

7001 Vernon Ave., Chicago, Ill.

"I am enclosing you a check for the Alumni Association. Both Mrs. Snow and myself send greetings to our old friends on the faculty and among the alumni. We certainly would enjoy being present at Founders' Day exercises were it possible to do so. Among other things, I would like to see if Judge ('Dave') Thomas presides as well at chapel exercises as he did as president of the old Athenian Literary Society. By the way, what has become of the literary societies? Until recently the most interesting part of the commencement exercises was contest night. I trust they have not been allowed to deteriorate. My observation throughout my work as a teacher and engineer has been that the training afforded by such organizations may be fully as vital to a man's success as that gained from the teaching staff, and that no course in oratory, as a part of the official college curriculum, can take its place. I feel that the consensus of opinion of the older alumni will bear me out when I say that a very large part of their success is due to this phase of their college training. A man's success depends on his ability to influence his fellowmen. If he knows all there is to know and has not this ability, he is foredoomed to failure, and I know of nothing that will give him this power so well as just the kind of training the old Athenian and Philomathean literary societies gave the students. I would like to see a crusade started to reinstate the 'contest' night as a part of the annual commencement exercises."

J. Bruce Lineburg, '15,

Woodfield, Ohio

"Was very glad to get the copy of the Ohio University Bulletin recently sent me. Very few items are of more interest than notes concerning classmates and the 'doings' about the Alma Mater. There is another matter of equal or greater importance, however, that is the benefits Old Ohio may get from the active support of her loyal alumni when properly organized. Here's wishing you success in this good work. We're all willing to help if given the chance."

Grace Post, '15,
Good Hope, Ohio.

"Better late than never. Although I have been rather slow in acknowledging it, the fact nevertheless remains that I enjoy the Alumni Bulletin immensely. I am so glad the alumni have been organized again, for I am always so interested in Ohio University affairs and the 'doings' of Ohio University people.

"It is the Bulletin which keeps us together. So that the organization may live a little longer, I enclose my note.

"With best wishes for the association and Ohio University."

Hazel P. Roach, '17,

521 4th St., Marietta, Ohio

"I have just received the fourth number of the Ohio University Bulletin and I certainly do enjoy each number. My tardiness in responding toward becoming a member of the Alumni Association must cease at once, hence my check. I was mighty glad to learn of the preparations for Founders' Day. The greater the number of such traditions that are formulated in connection with our Alma Mater, the greater the interest. My best wishes for the success of the association."

Ethel M. Dawson, '17,

Gates Mill, Ohio

"Enclosed find my membership dues in the association, I have been enjoying the Alumni Bulletin and was especially glad to note that the Cleveland branch of the association is to be revived. There are a great many Ohio University people in and near Cleveland. We should have an organization which will be of interest to ourselves, and possibly of some help to our Alma Mater."

J. M. Hall, '89,

Fremont, Ohio

"Enclosed please find my check for contribution to the Bulletin. I just received the last issue and I find it full of GOOD things, and especially that contribution written by Mrs. Evans the lovely wife of my dear old friend and professor. I think that article just fine—so easy and full of real life, and so many facts with which I am conversant. That 'Dear Old Bell,' I too, with Mrs. Evans, and thousands of others, can hear its sweet peals. I have had the pleasure and real satisfaction of knowing personally many of Mrs. Evans' folks—her father, brothers, husband and children. May they all, with me, have a lasting and joytul recollection of the Old Ohio University."

OHIO UNIVERSITY BULLETIN

Paul D. Bairas, '16,

1003-4 American Trust Bldg., Cleveland, Ohio

"I have before me the December number of your Bulletin and in as far as my friend Mr. Athas, '15, and I have been listed among the missing, I am taking this opportunity of informing you that we are both very much alive.

"For your information and that of our many friends and classmates, I may state that Mr. Constantine Pan Athas, '15, graduated from the law department of Harvard University, did his bit in the array and is now successfully engaged in business in Boston.

"With reference to myself, I may be permitted to say that I graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan, Class of '18, served for a while in the military intelligence department; took a trip home passing through many countries; returned to the United States last September; passed the bar examination in December and opened a law office in Cleveland immediately thereafter.

"I have had the pleasure, from time to time, of either meeting or seeing a good many acquaintances from Athens. Not long ago I met Dr. Douthitt at the City Club; and saw Dean Voigt and Miss Wagner, '16, on the street.

"In case any of my old classmates should happen to be in Cleveland, it would be a great pleasure to meet them at my office.

"I hope that an effort will be made by the proper authorities to arrange a class reunion of the Class of 1916 during commencement week of this year and that all will be present.

"I consider it an excellent idea to publish an alumni paper; provided, however, that it contains information about the activities of alumni of Ohio University, and not poetry and reminiscences. Busy professional men and business men have no time to read poetry and reminiscences."

Lucy Cramer Harvey, '13,

South Zanesville, Ohio

"I am sending a check which does not in any degree express my appreciation of the work the Alumni Association is doing.

"When I receive the Ohio University Bulletin, I cannot lay it aside until every word is devoured. It is such a joy to learn of the whereabouts of classmates of whom we had lost all knowledge.

"Please enroll me as an active member of the Alumni Association. With very best wishes for the success of the Bulletin."

Grace Somerwill, '06,

30 Monroe St., Warren, Ohio.

"The Ohio University banquet which I attended in Youngstown last Saturday evening renewed my interest in all things connected with Ohio University. This was the first alumni banquet I have had the opportunity of attending, but I do not intend it shall be the last.

"One's chosen work takes so much time and energy that it is easy to drift away from old associations and become so absorbed with the present that past experiences are forgotten.

"I wish to be enrolled as an active member of the Alumni Association."

C. C. Goddard, '17,

2040 E. 82nd St., Cleveland

"Enclosed you will find my check for $3.00 which you may add to the alumni fund.

"I am very much in sympathy with the effort that is being made by the secretary to unite our alumni into a co-ordinating loyal whole.

"Loyalty and faith in our Alma Mater is the punch we all must give that Ohio may have the influence and prestige she deserves. That Ohio University Quarterly is the biggest, little news carrier coming to Cleveland. Keep it coming. We enjoy every line of it."

C. Lee Shilliday, '12,

718 Union Avenue, Memphis, Tenn.

"If there is any thing that pleases an alumnus of Ohio University, it is to receive the news from his alma mater, and to say that I was pleased when I received the first issue of the Alumni Bulletin would be putting it mildly. To show you that the Bulletin is appreciated, I am enclosing herewith my check to help the good work along. There is nothing that I contribute to more gladly than to the work of the Alumni Association of the BEST SCHOOL IN AMERICA—OHIO UNIVERSITY.

"Since my last communication to you, I have taken up my abode in Dixie, 'down in the land of cotton,' and I might add land of pickaninnies, for one must think of both together. My particular part of Dixie is Memphis, Tennessee. I am nicely situated in a good position here in the College of Dentistry of the University of Tennessee, as professor of anatomy and histology. While this may seem a prosaic sort of existence, it is not so, for dental students have a way of keeping one awake and busy, so about all the prose or poetry one gets is from Cunningham, that unflinching companion of the seeker after the wonders of man's structure; and man surely is 'fearfully and wonderfully made.'

"After a pleasant year's work I am going to celebrate its close by going back to old Ohio University for commencement. Tell all the alumni to be there. I want to see them, especially the members of the banner class, the Class of 1912.

"With the best of wishes for yourself and all Ohio University alumni, I remain sincerely and loyally yours."

Hattie Ellen Morris, '11 and '14,
2125 Brookwood Ave., Toledo, Ohio

"Inclosed find a check to help out in bringing the Ohio University Bulletin to life again. Had it not been for the patient, faithful work of our much-loved secretary, this visit with old friends and their whereabouts would not have been made possible.

"With very best wishes for its success."

C. E. Stailey, '12.

Principal, Portsmouth High School,
Portsmouth, Ohio

"I 'nicked' the H. C. L. for three wheels not long ago and I am sending them to you for the Alumni Association. I am ashamed of myself for neglecting my contribution for so long a time.

"No, I am not going to tell you how the above 'nicking' was accomplished. It might have been by personal work upon the sympathies of the board of education or by finding a crock of gold at the end of a rainbow, or by beating rugs during spring vacation. 'Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.' They say that 'evil' is the middle name of the coin of the realm. I hope that it will be sufficient.

"Robert William, who was promptly dubbed Bobbie Bill by his doting, but misguided father, a fifteen month old monarch seated in his high chair throne of honor, or holding forth in his play-yard realm, now regulates our comings and goings. It is the hope of his fond parents that by the spring of 1941 he shall have annexed at least four varsity 'O's.'"

ALUMNI ACTIVITIES

The Class of 1916 is planning a fine banquet and reunion for the 1920 Commencement season. The committee hopes for the biggest class reunion in the history of the Ohio University. Every one should arrange to be present himself, and invite his friends in the class not to fail to meet him on that occasion. Write Hazel Cline, secretary Class 1916, Albany, Ohio, Reunion Committee. Russell Herrold, W. E. McVey, Merrill Cooley, Olive Robens Ridge, Hazel Cline, A. A. Atkinson, class adviser.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

Prof. and Mrs. Frederick Treudley have returned from an extended visit in the west. Prof. Treudley is back again in his classroom and seems to have been greatly benefited by his trip.

Maude E. Cryder, '17, was a campus visitor in the latter days of March. Miss Cryder is now connected with the Frances Shimer School of the University of Chicago, at Mt. Carroll, Ill.

"Jim" Osmund, well and favorably known by Ohio University students during the last dozen years, died during the Easter vacation. To those of other days, it may be stated that "Jim" was the faithful custodian of the gymnasium. His interest in athletics amounted almost to a personal ownership of the boys.

ACROSS THE DIVIDE

ISABELLA L. DUTNELL

Class of 1911

Died October 16, 1918

The announcement of Miss Dutnell's death was made in the February number of The Bulletin. From her sister, Miss Ethel M. Dutnell, Kent, Ohio, the following sketch of her life has been received:

"She was born in North Olmsted, Ohio, on March 3, 1836. She graduated from Elyria High School, June, 1905. Then she taught school four years in rural districts. After graduating from Ohio University she taught in the Elyria public schools until 1917. In September of that year she entered Baldwin-Wallace College at Berea, Ohio. Sister enjoyed that year and the summer term very much. Isabella was in college just two weeks and three days of the fall term when she suddenly passed away."

MARGARET McGRATH,

Class of 1918

Killed in an automobile accident at Irwin, Pa., Monday, April 19, 1920.

VICTORIA ARPEE

Class of 1918

Victoria Agnes Arpee was born in Constantinople, Turkey, on the 16th day of January, 1897, or near the close of the period of the first great massacre perpetrated by the Turks upon her race, the Armenians. If the epidemic of which she died is a direct result of the world war, the condition arising from the conflict of races of the last quarter of a century over-shadowed her to the end.

When six years of age she became a prey to scarlet fever, with a variety of complications which caused her family to despair of her life. A strong constitution alone enabled her to survive a disease which seemed to have done no worse than leave her with a slightly defective hearing.

She attended the preparatory department of the American College for Girls in Constantinople, finishing a three-year course in one. After the death of her father in 1913, she, with her mother, came to this country, whither the rest of the family, three brothers and a sister, had preceded them. They left Constantinople on the next to the last ship sailing after the outbreak of the great war, and it was mainly through her capable management that the exit from the Sultan's city and the voyage to New York were successfully accomplished.

In the fall of 1914, immediately upon arrival in the United States, Miss Arpee entered Ohio University, graduating in 1918, with the degree of A. B. During her four years' course she left upon teachers and fellow-students alike the impression of a conscientious student, an original thinker, and a genuine friend. In her Senior year she was a contributor to the Green and White writing the series of humorous and critical articles under the caption "The Periscope." She was a gifted piano player, and a musical critic whose opinions were valued by her sister, teaching piano in the College of Music. She was a member of the Athenian, Cresset and Choral Societies, vice-president of the Oyo Society, and two years secretary of the French Club, and served on the Advisory Board of the Woman's League, besides taking part in the activities of the Glee Club and the Y. W. C. A.

In the fall of 1919, she was invited to the High School of Lisbon, Ohio, to take charge of the department of French and Ancient History, her specialties. She greatly enjoyed her work and never looked better in her life than she did on a visit home during the Christmas holidays. A brief nine days' illness with the influenza, however, brought her brief career to a close on the 24th day of February, 1920. Among her last words to her sister, waiting by her bed side, were: "See! They are ascending and descending." And so with the vision of angels beckoning her she passed away. Her body was brought to Athens and laid to rest in West Union Street cemetery on the 27th day of February. "It is not the span of our lives that counts, but the use we put them to,"—not how long we have lived, but how much.—Athens Daily Messenger.

Class of 1880

J. B. C. Kirkendall, 1880, A. M. 1883, graduate of Cincinnati Law School, 1883, died of heart failure on October 24, 1919, at Grand Junction, Colorado.

THE YOUNGSTOWN MEETING

Take it all in all, the Youngstown Alumni Dinner on Saturday, April 24, scored one hundred per cent. To begin with there were one hundred twelve of us—the largest gathering for the year; and to think of it—the first of its kind! What will it be when it gets under way?

The dinner was served in the dining-room of the Y. W. C. A.. The decorations were all that could be desired. The eats were A plus, the speeches were pithy and snappy and the O. U. spirit was bubbling over from start to finish. Everybody had a good time and the start is being made for 1921.

To say who should receive the credit is impossible. Supt. Coursen, of East Youngstown, accused the Committee, and the Committee blamed Coursen. Both sides seemed to be amiable exaggerators. The real truth in the matter is, they all got busy, worked together, put the thing across, and everyone is generous enough to give the glory to the other fellow.

One interesting feature was that none of the guests went back beyond the Class of 1906. We were all a bunch of youngsters.

Prof. Herman Young acted as toastmaster, performing his duty in a most felicitous way. Among those who responded to toasts were Mary Treudley, W. E. McCorkle, "Dave" Cooper, Miss McFarland, Mrs. Young, Miss Adams, Lavinia Warner, Treva Stubbs and the Alumni Secretary. At the conclusion of the speaking program, the Mahoning Valley Ohio University Alumni Association was organized, Supt. W. M. Coursen being elected President, and James L. Hupp, of Windham, Secretary.

Following is the list of guests present:

Mr. and Mrs. (Brooks Shields) Raymond M. Clark, Genevieve Mariner, Alma Lattan, Mr. and Mrs. (Ethel Shuman) Herman H. Young, Eliza Carmichael, W. M. Coursen, Juliette R. Faubion, Mrs. Marion Allen Curran,

W. E. Curran, Freda H. Jones, N. Conger, Gladys Pelton, Clara Haible, Clara Klingensmith, Anna E. Eldridge, Florence A. Basom, Arloa Spracklen, Lila B. Butcher, Myrtle E. Gill, Ermine Squier, Mary F. Savage, Edna Karr Bode, Ruth K. Jones, Marian Brackin Grove, Annette Thomas, Ola Strong, Mollie F. Lattan, Mary Rodgers, Nelle Sause, Cecilia E. Adam, Mary L. Campbell, Winnifred Barner, Amy Eldridge, Marie O'Rourke, Eliza M. Allicon, Grace Somerwill, Lena Broomhall, Eula Mahon, Leota Loney, Mary Nelson, Mary Devlyn, Anna Lavine, Ella R. Thompson, Mary Shields, Treva Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mull, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Dearth, Anna McFarland, Florence McCleery, Christena McFarland, Louise McLane Lloyd, Grace L. ## ALUMNI ACTIVITIES

The Class of '07 is conducting a "chain letter" which is proving quite interesting.

A communication from Grosvenor S. McKee is to the effect that an O. U. Association is to be organized at Canton. Go to it!

THE STEUBENVILLE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Steubenville Alumni Association of Ohio University was entertained on Thursday evening, April 29, 1920, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kirk, N. Fifth Street, with Mrs. Paul Kirk, Mrs. Frank May and Mrs. William Munslow as hostesses.

This Association is composed of about thirty graduates, and students who have spent at least one year at Ohio University.

The evening proved to be a delightful reunion with contests, reminiscences of former college days, singing of college songs and the reading of greetings from Professor Martzloff, the Alumni Secretary.

Excellent refreshments were served, the college colors of green and white being carried out in the ice cream and confections.

The Association will be entertained by Mingo members, the next meeting some time in May.

The following members and guests were present: Mrs. Harry Barr, (Marie Luntz), Mildred Bernier, Mary Buchan, Mrs. H. M. Carpenter (Estella Wood), Marjory Cattell, Margaret W. Connelly, Myrtle S. Creamer, Fred N. Cunningham, Dorothy Daugherty, Mrs. H. B. Francis (Annette Higgins), Anita Henke, Margaret G. Herb, Florence Hibbs, Mrs. Frank P. May (Mabel Cunningham), Gertrude McCarroll, Mrs. William Munslow (Nelle Alderman), Marian E. Murphy, W. K. Winings, Mrs. Paul Kirk (Eleanor Boelzner), Estella Carpenter, Robert Kirk, Messrs. Barr, Francis Kirk, May, Munslow, and Paterson.

NOTES

The alumni office has recently been equipped with an addressograph, which greatly reduces clerical labor in mailing the Bulletin. We regard it as a good investment. It is the property of the Alumni Association.

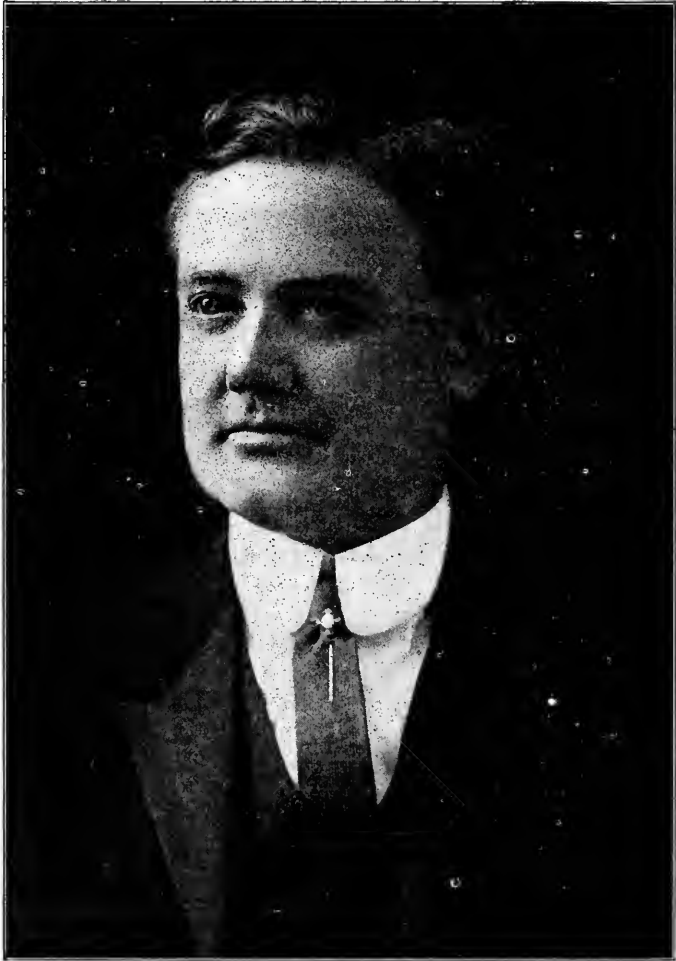

---

Alumni who contemplate attending the Annual Dinner on Alumni Day, will please notify the office as soon as possible. Such notification will greatly simplify matters here in making our arrangements.

Cresset, the honorary fraternity among the girl students, has in preparation an interesting Bulletin which will contain letters from former members. Cresset is one of the very strong organizations on the campus and has done much in maintaining a high standard among the girls. Dean Voigt is the moving spirit, which means that it goes along with a zip and snap.

HON. TIMOTHY S. HOGAN

Governor Cox has appointed Hon. Timothy S. Hogan, and the appointment has been confirmed by the Senate, as trustee of the Ohio University. "Tim" is one of our loyal Alumni and we are sure the interests of Ohio University will be well championed with him on the Board of Trustees.
